Moscow, Yesterday.

Manchuria is resolved to seize the Chinese Eastern Railway according to information worthy of attention in Japanese circles, declares the special correspondent of the Soviet organ, Isvestia, from China.

He states that various grounds for conflict are being artificially created in order to prepare the way for this coup, and adds, that as these grounds are insufficient, it is proposed to organise, during the second half of April or on May 1, provocative acts, such as the destruction of bridges, water towers, etcetera.—Reuter.

Such a plan, he states, should also cover native production and be accepted by the British Government.

NEW SENSATION AT RE-OPENING

CASE FINISHES TO-DAY SAYS JUDGE

"TRIAL BASED ON EVIDENCE OF TERRORISED RUSSIANS"

MOSCOW, TO-DAY.

ANOTHER SENSATION WAS CAUSED AT THE RE-OPENING OF THE METROPOLITAN VICKERS EMPLOYEES' TRIAL THIS MORNING, WHEN MONKHOUSE JUMPED UP AND SAID THAT HE WANTED TO MAKE A DECLARATION. THE JUDGE STOPPED HIM, BUT NOT BEFORE HE SAID THAT HE HAD BEEN CROSS-EXAMINED FOR 18 HOURS AND HAD SHOUTED, "THIS TRIAL IS A FRAME-UP."

After hearing the evidence of Sukouroutchkin yesterday, I wish to testify that the trial is based on the evidence of terrorised Russians, he added.

The Presiding Judge, Judge Ulrich, said that the case would finish to-morrow.

Another batch of "Confessors" to sabotage were called for the prosecution to-day.

Krashenninikov, head engineer of the Moscow Power Station made an assertion about the alleged defects in Metropolitan Vickers' plant. He said that he had not reported the defects because he was ordered not to.

At this stage, Monkhouse interposed, acknowledging that certain defects had occurred. Nevertheless, he said, he did not believe that Krashenninikov was a saboteur.

"But," persisted the witness, "I believe I am a saboteur." Another power station engineer, Zorin, followed Krashenninikov, and accused Thornton of giving him 1,000 roubles for sabotaging.

Thornton listened unmoved by the allegations.—Reuter.

South African's Testimony.

Cushny, the 35-year-old South African, then gave evidence that he went to Russia in 1926 and worked at the Don Basin. He was then at Baku until 1931 with Thornton, who gave him information about the works and made remarks about the political situation, prices of food etcetera.

He attributed the accident at Baku in 1928 to lack of proper care on the part of the Russians by permitting water to enter the turbines. He was not connected in any way with any of the breakdowns.

Before leaving the box, in which he gave a convincing display, he said that he wished to make a statement.

The judge pointed out that according to the Soviet law, evidence must come first. He said that the evidence and summing up would possibly finish to-morrow, when Cushny could make a statement.—Reuter.

Foreign Secretary's Statement.

"NO CONNECTION WITH INTELLIGENCE SERVICE."

London, Yesterday. In view of the nature of the charges made against the British subjects at the Moscow trial Sir John Simon made the following specific statement in the House of Commons on Thursday.

"None of these men has ever been employed directly or indirectly in connection with any branch of our intelligence services. None of them has ever supplied any information to any such branch. None of them has ever been paid or

Directors' Resolution Of Sympathy.

LONDON MANAGER PROMOTED TO BOARD.

(Reuter's Special Service.)

London, Yesterday. The Board of Directors of Metropolitan Vickers Company has passed a unanimous resolution expressing sympathy with the British employees of the Company now standing trial in Russia and voicing the Company's "complete confidence in their integrity and loyalty."

The Board also resolved to elect to the Board Mr. C. S. Richards, London manager, who has been responsible for all the Company's Russian business, as an indication of the Company's confidence in him.

During the trial at Moscow on Friday, Thornton admitted that Mr. Richards was interested in information regarding the Soviet Union. When the latter's career as an Intelligence Officer in 1918 was mentioned, a murmur of interest ran through the Court.

promised any reward for such information or has been supplied with any money to obtain it. None of them has ever made any report to or on behalf of our intelligence service.

"All the above statements are equally true of the Metropolitan Vickers Company itself.

"The Company has not, and never has had, any connection with our Intelligence Service whatever.

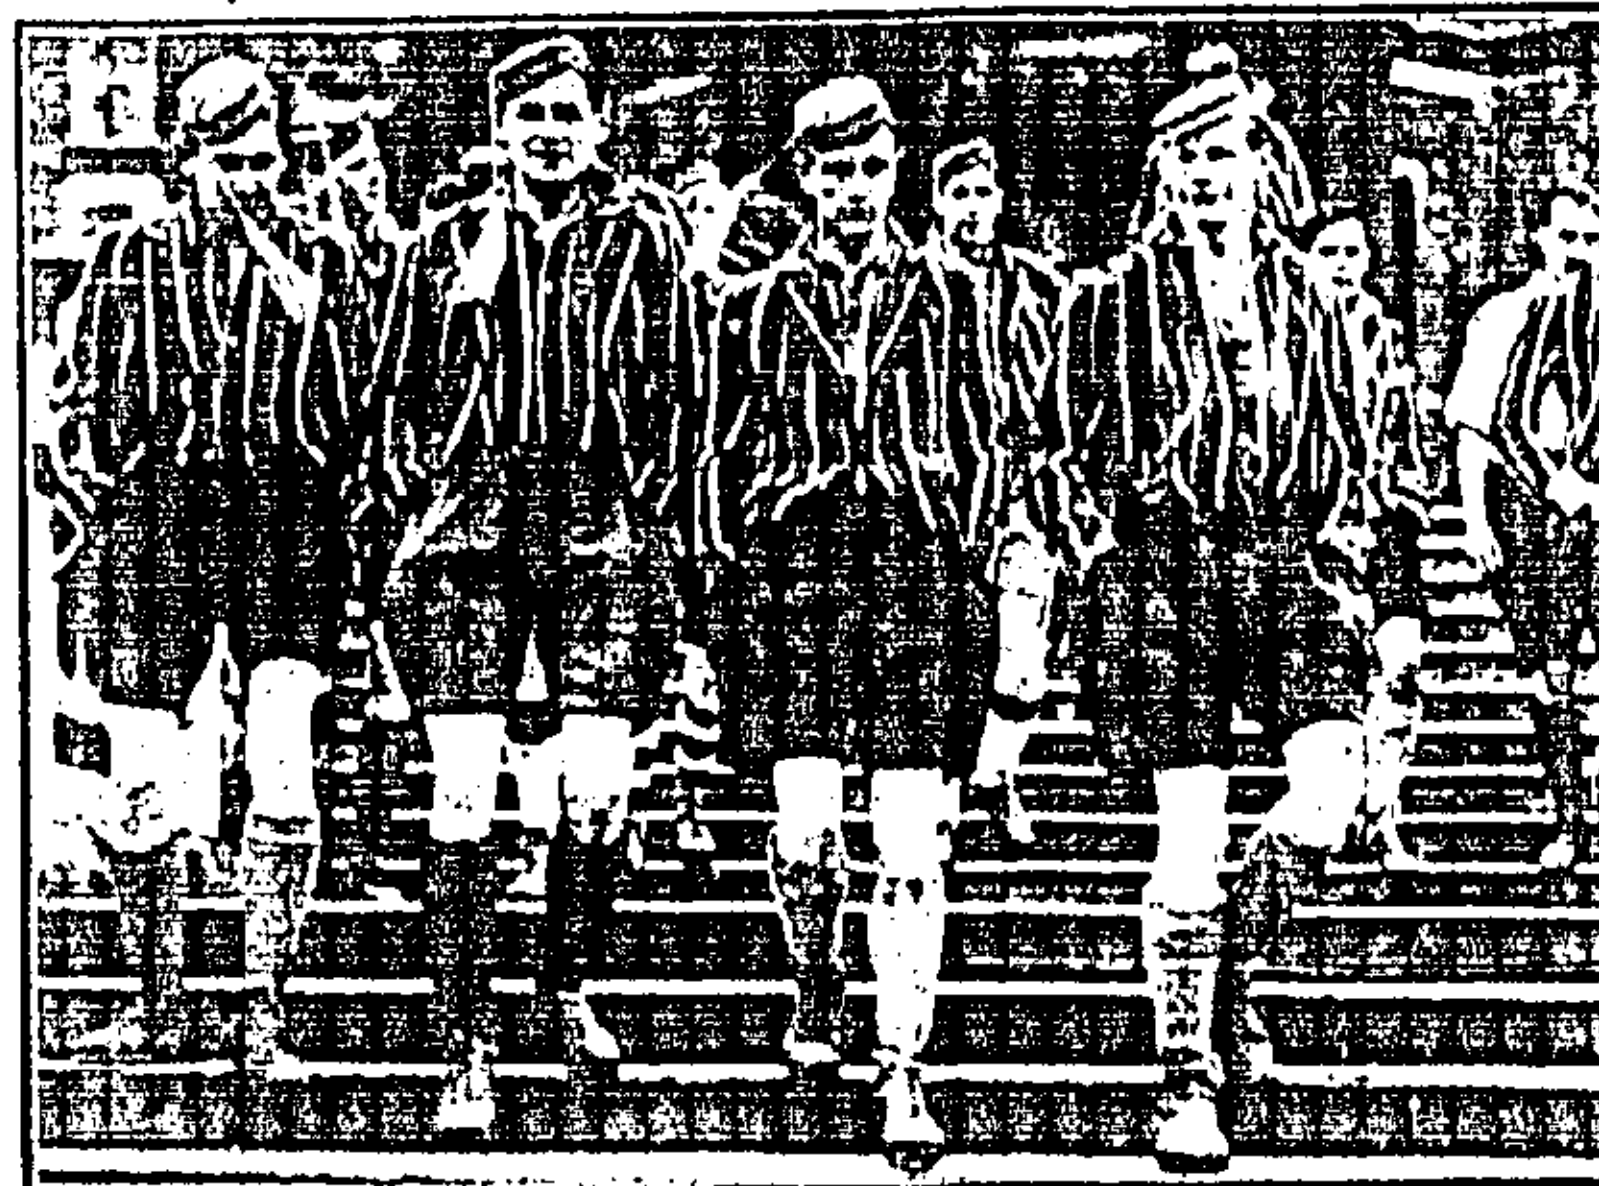

"It follows that any suspicious entertained or allegations made in any quarter to contrary effect are in fact without any foundation whatever."

THORNTON INTERESTED IN SOVIET'S SOLVENCY

London, Yesterday.

The rest of Friday morning's session was occupied with the examination of Lobedev, another of the Russian accused, who is claiming the protection to have participated with Thornton in wrecking the organisation of the Vickers Company.—Reuter.

GERMANY ANGERED BY SPEECHES

Indignation At Debate In Commons.

"LACK OF UNDERSTANDING" OF EVENTS IN GERMANY.

Berlin, Yesterday. The German newspapers as well as the Government, are angered by the House of Commons speeches.

The Nazi press has not yet made comment beyond a heading reading "Aggressive speeches by Chamberlain and Churchill."

The "Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung" refers to "disgraceful speeches" and urges the Government to combat the untruth of the statements and to also bear in mind the necessity for taking into regard foreign opinion.

The Nationalist organ, "Dorsen Zeitung," says that it is impossible to find among any nigger people of the British Empire, a more incomplete comprehension of Germany and the National Revolution.

Germany has hitherto let others live and now is at last to begin to live herself, even if it does not suit Sir Austen Chamberlain and his like, the newspaper adds.

The "Vossische Zeitung" states that the debate showed a lack of understanding towards events in Germany.

The German Ambassador to London, Herr Von Hoesch, was yesterday instructed to protest to the British Government against the statement about Germany made in the House of Commons on April 13, when Sir Austen Chamberlain declared that this is no time to talk of concessions to a country where it is a crime to favour peace or be a Jew and Mr. Winston Churchill declared that if Germany was given full military equality, a general European war would be in sight.

It is intimated that German official circles are displeased because Sir John Simon did not rebuke these speakers.—Reuter.

MR. EDWARD J. KELLEY NEW MAYOR OF CHICAGO

The late Mayor Cermak was fatally wounded when the Italian assassin, Zengars, made an attempt on the life of President Roosevelt at Miami, Florida, on February 16. He died on March 6.

JAPANESE INSIDE THE GREAT WALL

Terrific Infantry Attacks At Lanyang.

CHINESE REVERSE SOUTH OF LENGKOW.

Peiping, Yesterday.

The Chinese continue to give battle all along the line, according to to-night's official communiqué.

It is admitted that the Chinese forces suffered a reverse south of Lengkow. They have been obliged to retreat to a new position, but they are preparing a counter-attack in the vicinity of Chienanhsien.

Along the Hsifengkow front, the Japanese reached Lanyang, five miles inside the Great Wall after terrific infantry attacks which were followed by heavy shelling. Kupeikow remains quiet.—Reuter.

NORTH CHINA SITUATION STILL CRITICAL.

Nanking, Yesterday.

Mr. Liu Chung-chih, Vice-Foreign Minister who returned to the Capital to-day after some time in North China, is skeptical about Japanese assurances that the present military operations will not be extended beyond the Luan River.

Mr. Liu said that the situation in North China is still critical and added that preparations are being made to resist a possible Japanese attack against Charhar.—Reuter.

Tokyo, Yesterday.

Various Japanese organisations are much disturbed over Britain's action in denouncing the Indo-Japanese Commercial Convention of 1904, and a hot controversy is raging regarding the advisability or otherwise of placing a ban on the purchase of Indian cotton.

The Japan-India Society met yesterday to consider the situation, while other bodies who have called a meeting of executives to consider the matter, include the Economic Federation, the Cotton Spinners' Association and the Shipowners' Association.

HEROISM

COLLIERY

Rescued Native Amid

S.A. MINE DRAMA.

Johannesburg.

How a miner, after lighting the fuses of four charges of dynamite in a coal face, went to the rescue of a native who had become buried in a fall of coal a few feet below the charges of dynamite, has just been revealed. Even while the dynamite was exploding he continued with his rescue work. His leg was crippled and his body was blasted and cut by the explosions.

This act of unparalleled heroism was performed by Mr. Charles Lewarne at Largo Colliery, Springs. The coal band extended across the end of a tunnel, and after a quantity had been mined out of the lower face of coal at the end of the tunnel, leaving an overhanging of some depth, five charges of dynamite were loaded into holes in the upper face, so that the overhang could be blasted downwards into the tunnel and level up the face of the coal band.

Mr. Lewarne, who is very short of stature, lighted four fuses, and then asked his boss boy, Piet, to light the fifth, as he himself could not reach it. A "cheesa stick" had been attached to a wooden rod, but even Piet was not able to reach the last of the dynamite charges, which had been placed about 10 feet up the face.

Lewarne said, "Leave it, Piet! We'll blast that bit away to-morrow." Piet again tried to jump up toward the fuse, and, as he fell to the ground, a mass of coal from the under portion of the overhang split away, and fell on him, pinning his legs.

Charges Explode

Mr. Lewarne started to dig him out. Above his head all the while the burning fuse was eating its way towards the dynamite charges at a rate of three feet in a minute and a half.

After a minute or so of frantic digging the first charge exploded, filling the air with flying chunks of coal, and blasting downwards on to Mr. Lewarne's foot as he worked to extricate Piet.

The second, third and fourth charges exploded before Mr. Lewarne desisted, and then he found that his leg was crippled and his body blasted and cut by the explosions.

He was unable to walk, and he managed to crawl to an electric bell and call for help. When the boys came he dragged himself back to where Piet lay buried, and waited until Piet was safely extricated before he was attended to. Piet was not seriously injured.

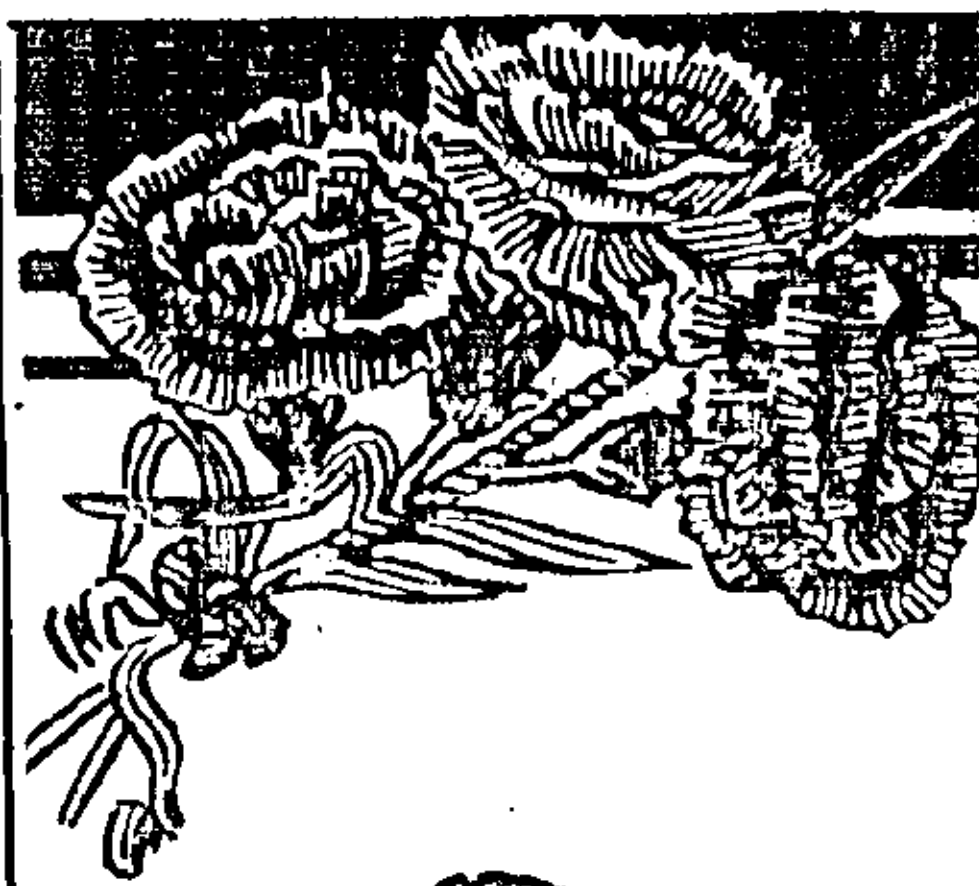

"My boss immediately began to dig me out," said Piet at the subsequent inquiry. "I think he is a very brave man not to run after the charges were lit. He continued until the charges exploded and injured him. If he had left me I should have died."

The authorities are considering Mr. Lewarne for the Albert Medal. He is at present walking on crutches, with his foot heavily bandaged.—Reuter.

Colour Schemes For Summer

Sparing Use Of Purple And Red

Grey Creates Cool Backgrounds

THE exterior colour scheme is changing, since Nature is a skilled decorator who varies the scene to suit the season.

To fit in with the bright and cheerful picture the interior of your home will probably need a little pepping up.

Colour is the order of the day. It is the simplest and least expensive means of introducing a new and pleasing note into a room.

Do not, however, allow the colour idea to carry you away. It is an awfully good one if used carefully, but can prove a hindrance if applied with too much abandon.

You must use caution with your colour in order to live with it. Psychological Effects.

Such colours as purple and red should be used sparingly, or not at all, over large surfaces if a cool and restful atmosphere is desired. It is a psychological fact that a predominance of purple causes irritability.

This is a colour that lies between blue and red, acquiring the coldness of one and the exhilaration of the other.

Used in small quantities shades of purple can be very effective. However, it is much better to blend off to the paler shades such as orchid or lilac.

Chanel's Spring Collection

Skirts Long Enough To Be Splashed.

THE Chanel collection this spring is the best possible instance of subtle art and material combined and of lavish work with a great deal of technique.

Main facts are that skirts may well out towards the hem but they must look straight, as far as suits and ordinary dresses are concerned.

All skirts are a little longer—long enough to be splashed at the back in muddy weather.

Suit coats incline to be fitted and short. Actually they and the skirt together make what is approximately a sheath, upon which various designs are inscribed.

Many coats have men's revers and pockets. Many have stitching all round the edge.

There are plain coats and checked or plaid skirts. In this case the revers are often made of the plaid and are fairly conspicuous.

Where the short coat has cut-away corners a waistcoat is often worn with it.

Many short coats have no collars and are tied at the neck. Their edges may be scalloped all round. Some have stand-up collars, and from these flow loose revers, rather on jabot lines.

Red should be avoided completely, except for small objects of art, cushions, etc., in the summer decorative scheme.

In fact red should never be used in excess unless a room is extremely large and cold in aspect. It is a decidedly warm, aggressive colour and apt to be over-stimulating when spread over large surfaces.

Gray is a very favourable colour when used in combination with bright colours to modify its neutrality.

A background of gray can create a distinctly cool and restful atmosphere. Too, this colour has a certain amount of illumination which makes its use favourable for rooms that are not well lighted.

Accessories Of Dress

Popularity Of Puffed Sleeves In Paris.

IN this connection pique collars, cuffs, waistcoats, flax or linen fittings, muslin or embroidery blouses are general. They are also, as a rule, on a generous scale.

Trimings generally are much seen. In this respect there is a definite reversion to an earlier fashion, suggestive of Margate in Frith's day or even of the time of Queen Adelaide.

A hat like a little plate, tipped over one eye and displaying curls like the back of a Buff Orpington, sets the pace for a navy-blue dress with a Peter Pan collar, embroidered with white braid and with musketeer cuffs to match.

The bodice has a bolero line which is only suggested, and the skirt, which, like the rest, is straight, has two small pleats low down in front.

The newest sleeve here has a close-fitting shoulder, becomes full with slanting pleats to just above the wrists, and has a long fitting cuff. It is Italian in suggestion.

The unexaggerated leg-of-mutton sleeve is here, and is becoming.

Clothes To Shine And Glitter

AFTER months of dull, rough creases and "matt" materials, everything now is made to shine and glitter.

Some of the materials and effects used to this end are:—Lacquered satin (which is merely crepe given a glamorous name); Devil skin, which glitters all over with shiny scales; Cock feathers lacquered at the tips, and Lacquered chiffon and organdie in

There are also innumerable sleeves made simply of a flounce. Sometimes the top of the sleeve is fitting and the flounce begins a few inches down. Sometimes it seems to form an epaulette straight from the low neck.

There are charming summer frocks in which play is made with organdie sleeves, and this is also used for the neck, sometimes in the form of a fichu, sometimes as half a fichu, the gathered ends of which are thrust through a slot at the V neck.

Puffed sleeves of various kinds are also seen. There is the small shoulder puff or the puff which reaches to the elbow. In evening dresses may sometimes be seen a long bishop sleeve, suspended from bracelets of material round the upper arm, which leave the shoulder bare.

Three-quarter sleeves are usually ended with notable cuffs or they include a second sleeve which protrudes from them.

There is every sort of rayed material and some with a little spot like a bigger or a smaller daisy. Dresses are also much varied by bias cuts, seams, and gathers.

Novel Trend Of Flax Material Freely Used

Double-Decker Skirt Re-Modelled.

THE London dress shows are bristling with new ideas. This is refreshing after the disappointing sameness of the Paris collections.

Over there the only novelty to be found lay in the fabric of the dress and the way in which it was employed. Over here there is something new and pleasing about every model shown.

The double-decker skirt is an old friend, the tunic-dress, which one of the Paris houses is featuring in its old form. Our designers have taken it, remodelled it, and given it a modern name.

They show the tunic, or first decker, in various lengths, below the hips, at the knees, or two inches above the second hem.

The new tunic is laced up the sides, sleeves, and neck with silk bootlaces through jewelled eyelets; with silk cord through large diamante circles; or they are quite plain and made of novelty striped woolen fabrics.

Tulle And Muslin Seen Everywhere.

FLAX materials are freely used, and it is easy to see that their tendency to crumple may be transformed into a virtue.

On all stuffs buttons are used as enhancing the superficial pattern or as giving line.

Much organdy is seen, as also such elaborate materials as chiffon, thickly darned with silver thread. This gives it a slightly cropped appearance, and it is used for an evening frock cut on Greek lines.

In general, afternoon frocks are made of the flowered or starred material, and there are many pleasing contrasts in black and white, blue and white, and so forth.

A pleasing asset to an afternoon frock with half-sleeves is a neckline made of what looks like snow-drops without any stems.

Evening frocks are long and sylph-like, often with narrow trains. They may be tight to below the hips and then gush forth like a waterfall in all directions.

That difficult material black lace is used with great skill. It has sleeves with flounces and a deep flounce from above the knees, stiffened slightly to look smart.

Tulle is everywhere. So is white embroidered muslin—not silk. There are a number of cotton evening frocks.

bright coloured plaid and wallpaper floral designs.

Shining from head to foot is evidently not enough, for one of our dressmakers is determined to bring back a rustle to skirts.

This is produced by stiff taffeta petticoats worn beneath cotton and silk summer dresses.

TIENTSIN WIN SOCCER INTERPORT

Weak Shanghai Team Lose 7 To 1.

HAY TRAVELS NORTH.

Tientsin, Yesterday. TIENTSIN beat Shanghai by the overwhelming score of 7 goal to 1 in the Interport Soccer encounter played here to-day. —Reuter.

This defeat was not surprising in view of Shanghai's inability to send up a team representative of their best talent.

Only four of the Shanghai team which visited Hong Kong last January, were among those who made the trip North.

Hay of the Argyls, who will be remembered in the Colony for his excellent showing against the Colony's forwards in the last Interport, filled his old position at left half, while K. C. Chen of the Tung Hwa, and Hughes of the Argyls again filled the positions of inside right and outside left respectively.

Voong of the Tung Hwa, who came here as a reserve back was again not selected travelling as first reserve. The captaincy of the team again fell to the lot of a Police representative, Duffy being invited to act as Captain and manager.

The following comprised Shanghai's team and reserves:—Chow (Tung Hwa); Shute (Police); Hastie (Argyls); Westwood (Police); Park (Police); Hay (Argyls); Wyllie (Argyls); K. C. Chen (Tung Hwa); N. Z. Lee (Tung Hwa); Duffy (Police) (captain and manager); and Hughes (Argyls). Reserves:—Voong (Tung Hwa), and H. Mandar (S. R. C.).

Mr. "Johnny" Heard's Fine Riding

Mr. Butler Wins Valleys To Pay $53.80

MR. "BENNY" PROULX'S TRIUMPH STICKYBEAK THROWS MR. PEARSE TWICE IN THE SAME RACE.

A DISAPPOINTINGLY small crowd witnessed Mr. "Johnny" Heard's success during the first day of the Easter Race Meeting at the Valley yesterday. Mr. Heard, going out in eight races, recorded three firsts, three seconds and a third. He has now had 13 wins at the Valley this season—Mr. "Leo" Frost has only 14 to date.

Mr. Benny Proulx had the distinction of bringing National Day third in the Valleys to pay $83.50—the highest dividend of the day. Mr. E. O. Butler rode Gay Butterfly to victory in the classic to pay $53.80. Dividends, on the whole were very substantial.

The new batch of subs. did not come up to expectations. De Minimis clocking 1.00.1 as against The Goat's 0.59.2 in 1.32.4 as against Swale's 1.33.4 at the Annual Meeting. Mr. H. V. Pearse had the misfortune to be thrown twice by Stickybeak in the same race and was carried off the course suffering from concussion. He is not, however, seriously injured.

The Canton Handicap witnessed the first of a series of substantial dividends when Mr. S. Y. Liang piloted Lunar Star just ahead of Valorous (Mr. Heard) to pay $35.60 for a win.

The Tiger led up to the distance post, and then appeared to tire, but Mr. Frost managed to keep his pony going down the straight and just beat Weybridge (Mr. Needa) for third place, three lengths behind Mr. Liang's mount.

Mr. Liang rode a well judged race, keeping up with the leaders until the straight was reached, and then bringing his pony to the fore with a great burst. Had Mr. Needa not relied so much on his last quarter there might, however, have been a very different result.

Flying Start
Pearse again gave trouble at the starting gate. In the Wuchow Stakes he bolted with Mr. "Leo" Frost in the saddle and Mr. S. A. Sleep had no alternative but to lift the gate, and the pony was away with at least six lengths to the good!

Pearse led the field to the Rock, but King's Company (Mr. da Roza) and Solar Star (Mr. Needa) were closing with him. Coming into the straight Pearse was caught by both ponies, but came again to beat Widnes (Mr. Peter Young) in a thrilling fight for second place. King's Company was fourth.

Mr. Needa fully atoned for his earlier error of judgement. He rode magnificently.

Mr. Pearse Thrown.
The St. Kilda Plate provided the only sensation of the afternoon.

As in the former race there was trouble at the gate. But After That (Mr. Ip Kui Ying) getting away to a false start and causing Mr. Sleep again to raise the gate. The starter was, however, not quick enough, and Mr. Ip ran into the bottom rope and broke it. Mr. Ip's mount behaved well enough, but Mr. Pearse's pony, Stickybeak, began to give a broncho exhibition in front of the stands.

It culminated in Mr. Pearse being lightly thrown at the winning post and the pony careering through the gate on to the green in front of the Golf Club. He was eventually caught and remounted after quite 15 minutes.

The nine starters eventually got away, Portia (Mr. Heard), being badly left. At the Golf Club corner Stickybeak again threw Mr. Pearse, who appeared to have been severely trodden on. He was obviously unconscious and it was thought that he had been seriously injured. He was taken off by members of the St. John Ambulance Brigade and sent away to hospital in an ambulance.

It is, however, learned that Mr. Pearse has not sustained very serious injuries. He is suffering from concussion.

The finish of this race was the best of the day. Portia, the favourite, soon made up the ground she had lost at the start, and caught Ntuku (Mr. Sewell), who had led all the way, at the distance post. Coming down the straight it was anybody's race with Friar Tuck (Mr. Needa) looking very dangerous. Only good jockeyship gave Mr. Heard his first win by the narrow margin of a head.

Only Dead Heat.
The Fat Shan Handicap witnessed the only dead-heat of the afternoon. Alexandra Hall (Mr. Heard) just staving off Marquis Hall's (Mr. Stanton) challenge for second place. Mr. Ip Kui Ying rode well on Wayward Stag, and fully justified the public's confidence in him. He came through on the outside at the beginning of the straight and just got home by a short head to pay $23.60 for a win.

Heller Skelter (Mr. Black), who was fourth, at one time looked as if he might provide a useful dividend, but he lacked his old finish. Esk (Mr. Liang) was badly left at the start.

De Minimis Wins.
The second Wung Nei Chong Stakes was well judged by the public. De Minimis (Mr. Needa) being made favourite and No Fear (Mr. Heard) and Melody (Mr. da Roza) paid only $9.30 and $11.90 for places.

De Minimis, which drew fourth position out of a field of sixteen, set away to a good start and was always in the first three. It was Mr. Needa's fine finish, however, that won the race in the slowish time of 1 minute 1/5 second. He only just nosed out No Fear and was only half a length ahead of Melody. Darian (Mr. Liang) was fourth.

Favourite Last.
Sitting Bull (Mr. Frost), hot favourite for the Shek Fai Handicap, was no where in the field of six starters, and finished last.

Mr. "Johnny" Heard recorded a brilliant win on Bag and Baggage to pay $20.60. He judged his race to perfection, though Sadko (Mr. Needa) almost caught him in the last ten yards to the post.

Sadko, Sitting Bull, Gay Crusader, Hetman, King's Justice and Bag and Baggage passed the stands in that order the first time round. The final order was Bag and Baggage, Sadko, Gay Crusader, King's Justice, Hetman and Sitting Bull.

Mr. Butler's Win.
Duplex (Mr. Needa), favourite for the Second Valleys, was also unplaced. The Panther (Mr. Frost) succeeded in securing a very fine start and led by about ten lengths at the Rock the lead had been decreased to a modest four by Gay Butterfly (Mr. Butler) and National Day (Mr. Proulx). Coming into the straight Mr. Frost's mount appeared to stop suddenly, but it soon came again. That momentary lapse, however, cost him the race for Mr. Butler sent his mount to the front and won by half a length. Duplex was fourth.

Mr. Butler was responsible for a

LEUNG WING CHIU

$53 dividend, the second highest of the day.

Mr. Heard's Third.

Mr. Heard recorded his third win on Royal Flush, winning the Swatow Handicap by a comfortable margin from Amoy (Mr. Ip Kui Ying) and Warrington (Mr. Needa).

Snappy Eve (Mr. Young) led at the start but Valley Hall (Mr. Pan) was ahead at the football stands. The game little pony was, however, out of the race at the Rock.

Iron Grey (Mr. Channon) was fourth and King's Parade (Mr. Black) fifth.

Mr. "Benny" Proulx Wins.

Wotini sprang a surprise in the New Bridge Handicap for "A" Class Australians when Mr. "Benny" Proulx rode him to victory over Polar Star (Mr. Butler) to pay $22.80. City of Brisbane, the only other starter, followed closely on the heels of Wotini once round the track, but was badly beaten in the straight where Polar Star came up from last to offer a serious challenge.

Novices' Race.
Mr. J. A. C. Ingram recorded his first win of the season when he brought Jack O'Lantern home by a neck ahead of Charming Face (Mr. Black) to pay $19.70 for a win.

The ponies finished in the following order: Jack O'Lantern, Charming Face, White Butterfly, Teasie, Black Velvet, Invincible, Kenner Leaf, Oh Yeah and Spring Field.

Top Weight Wins.
The Crook (Mr. da Roza) quickly dispelled all doubts as to whether he could carry 168 lbs. to victory when he got away to a good start. He was never seriously extended and returned during punters with $24.50.

Mr. "Benny" Proulx secured second place on City of Shanghai to pay $22.70 while Mr. Heard, who displaced Mr. Black on Auction Bridge, concluded a successful day's racing with a third place.

WIN 5-3 AFTER 3-0 IN ARREARS

LEUNG WING CHIU THE MASTER MIND

COMBEY'S BRILLIANT GOALKEEPING

CHINA, WINNERS in 1930, secured a brilliant victory in the Final Round of the "Sunday Herald" International Charity Cup Competition yesterday, when they defeated England by 5 goals to 3 after being three goals down in the first forty minutes, and a goal in arrears at the interval. Their superb second half display swept the English team off their feet, and with wonderful bouts of passing they went on to win a well deserved and brilliant victory.

The heroes of the match were Leung Wing-chiu, the Chinese centre half who completely dominated the English forwards throughout the game and who fed his forwards with amazing ground passes; Fung King-cheong who led the Chinese forwards with wonderful generalship and Combey, the English goalkeeper who gave the finest display ever seen on any local ground.

THE GAME was one of the best witnessed for some time, thrills were plentiful, as were goals, each side giving of their best under trying conditions.

The great difference between the two teams was the great determination displayed by the Chinese. Although three goals in arrears at one period of the game they refused to be thrown off their balance, while the English side, after losing their early advantage, cracked up badly.

A feature of the game was the forward play of the Chinese. Their rapid short-passing game rattled the English defenders, and towards the end, Strange became very wild in his clearances as a result.

Yeung Shui-yick, the Chinese right winger, was given plenty of room in which to move around, and he executed several great runs, keeping the English defenders busy with his accurately placed centres.

The master mind of the Chinese side was the centre-half, Leung Wing-chiu. He never put a foot wrong throughout the game, his defensive work only being overshadowed by his brilliant distribution. He sent long swinging passes out to both wings, and irrespective of the distance, his kicking was always well-judged.

Sunday Herald CHARITY CUP.

Over $40,000 Distributed To Worthy Causes.

BRIEF HISTORY SINCE 1925.

CHINA, potential winners of the Lal Wah Cup Final against the Civilian to-morrow afternoon, recorded their second triumph in the Sunday Herald Charity Cup competition when they beat England yesterday. Their previous success was in 1930.

In 1931 China were surprisingly defeated by Scotland in the preliminary round, and last year they did not compete owing to the football dispute.

The Sunday Herald Charity Cup Tournament, the only international soccer competition in the Colony, was inaugurated in 1925, and since that year over $40,000 has been collected and distributed to many worthy charitable institutions.

This year witnessed a record entry, five teams having competed. Wales were the newcomers.

This year's series of games will be remembered for the thrilling displays and surprising results that featured the tournament throughout.

Portugal supplied the first shock when they overcame a 3-1 deficit in the first half to beat Scotland 5-3. Then China overwhelmed the victorious Portugal eleven to enter the Final Round.

The Borderers, who supplied the full Welsh eleven, were expected to overcome England easily, but they failed to impress, and were beaten by 8 goals to 4 in a game full of thrills.

China's second half display in yesterday's Final was magnificent and they thoroughly deserved their fine win. Their exhibition of football will go down in the annals of the competition as the finest seen in the Colony.

The following are the winners of the Cup since its inception in 1925:—

1925 Scotland
1926 Portugal
1927 Scotland
1928 Scotland
1929 England
1930 China
1931 Scotland
1932 Portugal
1933 China

After a goalless first half the Saints took the lead when E. F. Fincher scored from a melee in the "Y" goalmouth. H. Somers, equalised shortly afterwards, but in the closing stages of the game E. F. Fincher netted the deciding point.

Fincher, Woolley, Guest, and the Macnider brothers were outstanding in the Saints side, while Shields performed brilliantly in the "Y" goal. Bates and the three Fowler brothers were also conspicuous in the Y.M.C.A. team.

OUR GENERALS GROW OLDER

Slowness Of Army Promotion Senior Navy Officers Are Younger

(By Captain B. H. Liddell Hart.)

London. THE Royal Navy is familiarly spoken of as "the Senior Service." But it is fast earning the right to be called, in a different sense, quite as complimentary, the "Junior Service." For its senior officers now are strikingly younger than their opposite numbers in the Army.

The average age of full admirals is now five years lower than that of generals. Vice-admirals are four years less than Lieut. Generals. There is as great a gap between the junior rear-admirals and major-generals. The most recently promoted rear-admiral was only 49, while the most recently promoted major-general was 54. Several have been promoted during the past year at 56 and 57.

Soldiers everywhere are discussing the contrast between the juniority of the "Senior Service" and the seniority of the "Junior Service." They pay increasingly vocal tribute to the way admirals have been retreating to give their juniors a chance, by helping to clear out the congested channels of promotion. They remark the fact that the senior officers of the Navy have now been giving this example of self-abnegation for a number of years, the senior officers of the Army have shown no sign yet of following suit.

Admirals' Sacrifices. Particular comment is made on the early age at which the former have given up their prospects of further employment. Last year Sir Michael Hodges, Sir David Anderson, and Sir Bertram Theisger, all of them full admirals, retired at only 57. In contrast, there are generals of 65 and 64 still in employment.

for Sandhurst than encouraging evidence of an energetic effort by the War Office to clear the congestion at the other end of the promotion channel.

One open indication of the present state of feeling is provided by an article, written by a bold if truthful subaltern, in the current "Army Quarterly."

"Whenever two or more officers gather together, whether it be in a mess, a club, or elsewhere, the conversation sooner or later will turn into discussion on the vexed question of promotion. More often than not, the comments thereon are bitter in the extreme. The present system of promotion is assailed on the three grounds that it is slow, uneven, and uncertain."

The Test of War.

It is a grave mistake, unfair to the country as well as officers, to allow such a condition to persist until its dangers are revealed under the test of war, whether a large campaign or a colonial expedition. Mobile warfare requires comparatively young men for leading not only battalions, but divisions. Older men have not the physical activity and endurance under hardship, even if they keep their minds sufficiently young and elastic.

Mobile war on land means a far more strenuous test than war at sea for the higher commander. An admiral is carried about in relative comfort in his flagship, and has a better chance of husbanding his strength, than a general who drives far and wide over bad roads in all weathers, often quitting his car to make his way on foot into the fighting line, if he is to see things for himself—as he should.

It is folly to judge the conditions of generalship by the quiet and stable conditions of trench-warfare in 1914-1918. Even if the general of the future goes to war in a tank, it will be a much more arduous trial than is suffered by the admiral in a great battleship.

Yet to-day the average age of the generals now employed is 63, while that of the admirals is only 58. And the Lieutenant-generals average 68 compared with the 54 of vice-admirals. By any realistic standard the generals should be as much younger than the admirals as they are now older.

WISE & OTHERWISE

Well! Well!
Walking and flying are both healthy recreations, says a doctor. Now we know aches and pains can be cured by bikes and planes.

NEEDS THE DOUGH.

"That neckless old Henry gave you cost every cent of $5,000. I hope you realize that."
"Say, I'll be glad to realize $2,500 on it."

THE REAL SUFFERER.

LITTLE BOY (looking at his mother's new fur coat): How that poor beast must have suffered that you could have such a fur coat.
MOTHER: Hush, Roscoe. You shouldn't talk so of your father.

"BOXER AS SEAMAN."

He should be able to keep himself in training, of course, by boxing the compass.

Three Inches Lower.

The only time the average woman lowers her voice is when she takes off her shoes.

Statistic.

The average weight of a chorus girl in a non-stop show is 9 st. 7 lb. 8 oz. Or 9 st. 7 lb. 8 1/2 oz. with her clothes on.

Our Maid's an Elocutionist.

You should just hear her rendering of "Break, Break, Break."

Absurd.

"Spring in the air," states a headline. I refuse.

Not So Dumb.

A naturalist declares that animals have their own form of speech. Well, we have all heard of deerstalking.

PICKING UP THE THREAD.

A baby girl is reported to have eaten a ball of worsted. That is nothing to the yarns she will have to swallow when she gets married.

SINISTER.

"Billiards," says a writer, "is not popular in Russia." Soviet officials seem to think that there is some sinister significance in potting the red.

NOT SO MUCH.

"My mother was very handsome."
"So you take after your father."

A Clue.

He: "Funny, my razor won't cut at all to-day!"
She: But darling, you don't mean to suggest that your face is tougher than the oilcloth?

Depends Who Did The Calling.

Once upon a time there was a little girl who was called Goldenlocks. Or "that dyed-haired cat."

He Cannot Help It.

Doctors are puzzled by a man who cannot stop snapping his fingers. One theory is that he is a deaf mute with a bad attack of hiccoughs.

TO-DAY'S HOME HINT.

How to make a cheap coat-hanger—drive a nail in the wall.

CANNIBAL CAMEOS.

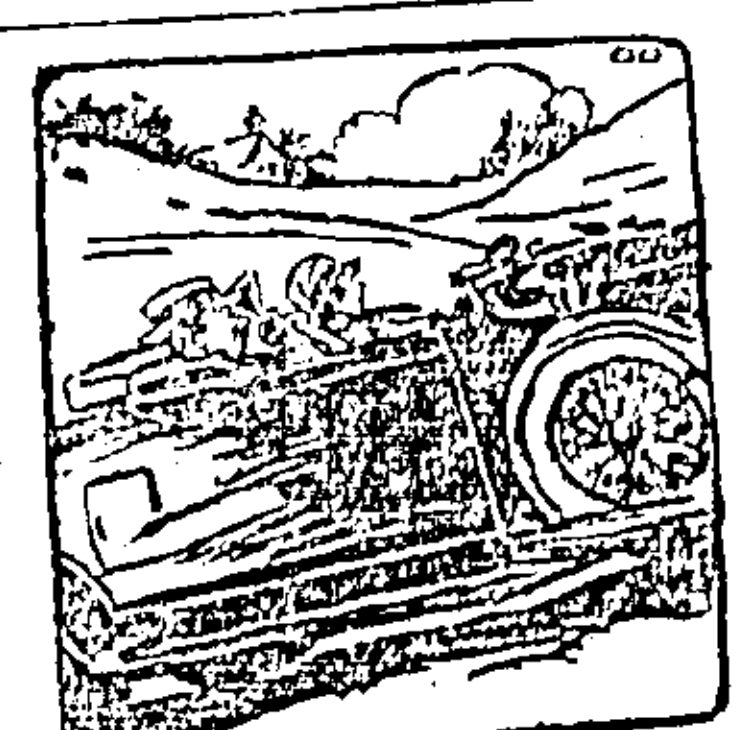

"Where's your husband to-night?"
"On the menu."

Sample Please.

Bankers declare that counter-felting has practically ceased. No one, apparently, has any real money to work from.

A START, ANYWAY.

Doctors report the discovery of a man with two hearts. If he keeps on smoking long enough perhaps he will get a full pack.

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE.

There ought to be a good story about the suspenders manufacturer whose wife sued him for failure to support.

OPEN AIR CRESS.

And draughts.
Revised Version.
He who hesitates is hoosed.

NEEDS TIME.

WIFE: The couple next door seem to be very devoted, John. He kisses her every time he goes out and when he comes in again, and she waves kisses to her from down the street. Why don't you do that?

HUBBY.

Hang it all, give a man time. I don't even know her yet.

STONE AGE IDOL DISCOVERED.

Necropolis Excavations Commenced.

HUMAN REMAINS UNEARTHED.

Madrid.

A tiny ivory statue, about five inches high, which has been found during excavations near the Jamilena Necropolis in the province of Jaen, is believed to constitute one of the first religious images ever made in the district.
The idol represents a lotus flower and the head of a serpent combined and is thought to date from the stone age.

Other objects discovered during excavations on this site include an agate knife with an ivory handle, a copper axe, fossils and stone implements. A small cave was unearthed near the Necropolis. The cave is in a perfect state of protection, and has a two-arched doorway. Experts consider that it is one of the primitive cave dwellings which are numerous in Andalusia.

importance of the finds, Professor

BRIDGE NOTES

The Question Of Stakes.

An impression is prevalent that Contract Bridge fosters gambling, and from time to time stories are circulated about losses of hundreds and even thousands of pounds at a sitting. Such tales as a rule are greatly exaggerated in the telling.
We have always had them.

The popularity of Contract Bridge among women has introduced a new element in card-playing.
Although the age of chivalry may be past, there are some men who have an uncomfortable feeling when they win considerable sums from women, especially when they know or suspect that the women cannot afford their losses and that a husband or someone else has to do the paying. Their qualms are needless. Women have made Contract Bridge their own particular preserve, and men are far more likely to be the dupes. Against the stories of disaster there may be set authentic cases of women who keep the home fires burning by their consistent winnings. The "professional" woman player who sets out to make an income by Bridge is a phenomenon of to-day. If a poor woman can play a game well, why should she not allow that game to keep her and her husband as well?

Contract Bridge has opened up a new field for exploitation, and there are both men and women who rely upon it as a source of income. But that fortune is won or lost at the game is untrue. Because the money side of the game looms large in certain circles it is absurd to blame Contract or expose it as a debased spectacle of modern times. The real gambler has "no use" for Contract Bridge.

Contract bridge is, in fact, not a gambling game, and by the vast majority of players it is played for insignificant stakes as a pastime and for mental refreshment. Contrary to general opinion, in the United States thousands of people play for no stake at all. Even in duplicate contests they are content to play for prizes and trophies. I well remember the surprise of a well-known American woman player at the blintz fashion in which monetary wins and losses were discussed at London clubs.
She thought it indecent. The players for big money in America are careful to disguise the fact and do not want it advertised. They prefer to be depicted with a number of challenge cups, trophies, medals, and high-score scarfpins—an inspiring spectacle!

To play for no stakes at all is inspired. The use of a small stake is to define the interest. It is not the amount dependent upon the rubber that increases the pleasure of the players. But there is just the difference between playing for something or for nothing that there is between purpose and no purpose. We may have no desire for gain, but we must have a definite object in view.

There is also another aspect. In 1878 Mr. Richard Proctor wrote:

I cannot see the sense of playing for insignificant stakes. It is only when the stakes are large enough to be more than the player can afford that any excitement can be added to the pleasure which a good game like Whist affords in itself. And when once the stakes are allowed to attain such an amount the play becomes gambling.

This will appeal to all those who like an occasional flutter. Millionaires, unless they play for millions, can derive no such thrill. In fact the point of deciding where interest ends and gambling begins must be decided by each individual.
So long as it is a matter of indifference whether you win or lose you cannot be said to be gambling.
To one player £50 may be a consideration, to another it may be a mere trifle. Cavendish wrote that the "good sense of the community generally fixes the stakes at a reasonable sum."

The truth is that card-playing is common with almost all occupations may be wisely and honestly used, or foolishly and wickedly abused.

Rafel Lainez of the University of Madrid has been appointed by the Government Excavations Board to pay a visit of inspection to Jam-ilena.

The Necropolis itself which is in a state of complete decay through the effects of time, formerly consisted of two semi-circular burial chambers eight feet in diameter.
Six persons had been buried in one of them, according to the human remains found, and now preserved in the Provincial Fine Arts Museum.—Reuter.

Cameramen of the Liang You Company of Shanghai during a recent trip to northwestern China, posed here for a picture before the Loyang Buddhas. This group of expert photographers under the direction of Mr. T. S. Liang took more than 10,000 pictures during their trip throughout the country.

At Left: Chinese Army Trucks packed with Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang's troops making a short stop on the way to the front.

Below: In The Front Line with soldiers of the 25th division at Kupeikow, the cameraman records the war that is being fought in the North, despite the danger of his exposed position and the absence of adequate protection from both enemies the cold and the Japanese bullets.

WINTER WAR AT RUPEIKOW - Kupeikow, in Hopei, is one of the Northern entrances to China Proper, and was a strategic point of Chinese defence against the encroachments of the invading Japanese. Severe fighting between Chinese and Japanese troops has taken place at this spot. In the photograph below, a portion of the Great Wall and the fortifications may be seen; these are still well preserved.

Apart from his interest in half of an English engineer, and general information, Thornton admitted his interest in information bearing on the Soviet Government's solvency in view of the large credits advanced to them by his firm. The Prosecutor was understood to show surprise and to suggest that these admissions tallied with their accusations.

"5,000 ROUBLES FROM NORDWALL"

Lobanov's evidence was next called. He, like all the other Russian accused who had pleaded "guilty" in this case, described his anti-Soviet views as being taken advantage of by one of the Metropolitan Vickers' employees—in this case, Nordwall—with whom he worked at Ivry.

He described at length wrecking works which he alleged he had undertaken on Nordwall's instructions and for which he said he had received 5,000 roubles from Nordwall, as well as a fur coat.

Nordwall completely denied everything that Lobanov had said, pointing out that he had in fact, attempted to dissuade Lobanov from his anti-Soviet views. He explained the transaction involving the fur coat as taking place through a third party to whom it belonged, an English sister, who was paid for it by Lobanov.

He added, "I think that any man would have done the same in my place." The examination of Lobanov then continued. It was led by the prosecution to reaffirmations by him of Nordwall's supposed anti-Soviet views and an alleged plan for machine wrecking.—British Wireless Service.

MACDONALD'S PLEA MUST STAND

The decision of the judge that MacDonald's plea of "guilt" must stand, was one of Friday's sensations at the trial of the six British Engineers of Metropolitan Vickers, Messrs. Alan Monkhouse, Charles Thornton, William MacDonald, John Cushman, Charles Nordwall and A. W. Gregory, who are facing charges of Military and Political Espionage, Sabotage and Bribery at the Trades' Union Hall, here.

Despite MacDonald's denial of guilt the Judges consider that the original plea of "guilt" holds good.

The main issue before the Court when the third day's proceedings started, was whether the 3,000 roubles given to the Russian engineer, Dolgoff, by Thornton was a loan or a bribe.

Dolgoff declared that he regarded the money as a corrupt payment, and had handed it over to the authorities. "I am very conscientious," he declared, and despite his self-righteousness, his confident answers made a good impression on the Court. Thornton admitted making the gift, but asserted that the money was a loan for buying a room. He took no receipt, as Dolgoff said it was unnecessary.

THREW BOLT INTO GENERATOR

The "confessions" of sabotage, executed on the incitement which accused MacDonald and Nordwall, next held the stage.

M. Kotlarevsky, head of the Turbine Department of the Zuevka electricity works said that acting on MacDonald's request, he threw a bolt into the generator and wrecked the motor.

MacDonald paid him 1,000 roubles for doing so. He also supplied MacDonald with blue prints of the Zuevka station.

Succeeding witnesses charged Nordwall with inciting sabotage and asserted that they had faithfully performed the task on a fairly extensive scale.

The principal witness declared that Nordwall paid him 5,000 roubles.

Nordwall listened with great astonishment and then warmly told the Court, "All this evidence is absolutely untrue. I did not bribe and I did not plot against the Soviet."

FUR COAT DEAL IN EVIDENCE

A fur coat transaction between Nordwall and one of the accusing witnesses was brought into the case. Nordwall explained that he sold the coat to the witness on be-

NORDWALL IMPRESSES COURT

After a three-hour adjournment, Nordwall again went into the box and made an excellent impression by the curt and decisive answers he made to the questions.

Nordwall referred to a mistake in the erecting of a turbine. Regarding this, Ollenik, one of the Russian employees of Metropolitan Vickers, in reply to a question, declared that Nordwall was to blame for the error because he overlooked a mistake in the blue prints.

Nordwall retorted that he had piped the turbine and paid for the expert Commission. It was untrue that he was pleased with the incidents.

"BRIED TO OVER LOOK DEFECTS"

A Garrulous Russian named Siebert then gave evidence. He said that he had never worked for Metropolitan Vickers, but was friendly with Thornton, who told him that there was no need to examine Metropolitan Vickers' machinery too closely because it was all good stuff.

Witness said that he told Thornton about the defects in the switches which slowed up the work generally. Thornton thanked him and handed over 300 roubles.

Thornton stood up and said that he did admit that allegation. He gave Siebert 250 roubles, as a bonus because he did his work well.

Siebert declared that he started sabotaging because he respected Thornton very much and believed all he said. He added that Gregory started counter-Soviet propaganda as soon as he came to Dneprostroi.

GREGORY'S HOT DENIAL OF CHARGES

A. W. Gregory, constructional of Metropolitan Vickers, speaking in a strong Welsh accent caused a stir in the Court by sharply declaring: "This man Siebert insults me and injures my reputation and without question, is this justice?"

Judge Ulrich stopped his outburst, saying, "Limit yourself to facts. Your time is coming."

Gregory said that he went to Dneprostroi to set up oil switches. He was very careful in order to keep up the firm's reputation.

Turning to the commission of experts sitting in the corner of the Court room he said that he erected three switches each weighing 45 tons, in 48 days. He said he must leave it to the experts to say whether that was working or not.

When accused of spreading propaganda between Russian workers, he replied that he did not speak Russian and that it took him all his time to teach them what to do. Besides that, he was not interested in politics.

PLAN TO WRECK STATIONS

M. Sukorutchkin, deputy chief engineer of the Moscow electrical station of the accused Russians said that he had received 2,500 roubles from Thornton for sabotage and was instructed to paralyse the electrical industry in case of war, by wrecking the key stations. "Thornton and I had made a plan," he said.

Thornton giving evidence, denied that such conversations had occurred, or that he gave Sukorutchkin any money.

The Court rose at 10 a.m.—Reuters.

MR. SOONG AS DELEGATE TO WASHINGTON

Nanking Invitation To Finance Minister.

MR. WANG CHING-WEI OUTLINES WAR SITUATION

Shanghai, Friday.

In an interview granted to Reuters, Mr. Wang Ching-wei who arrived here from the capital this morning, stated the Government still intended to send Mr. T. V. Soong to Washington to participate in the international discussions on world economic problems and he had specially come to Shanghai to persuade Mr. Soong to accept the mission.

He said Mr. Soong will decide whether to go or not this evening. Mr. Sun Fo is not going, because of pressure of work in the Legislative Yuan. Concerning the war situation in North China, Mr. Wang Ching-wei declared that General Sung Cheh-yuan and Shang Cheng are assuming full charge of the war operations at the front. The recent withdrawal of the Chinese troops from the Great Wall was necessitated by military tactics which cannot be regarded as a Chinese defeat.

Reinforcements are being rushed to the North according to original plans, he said, and the Government's policy of resistance remains unchanged under all circumstances.

Communism. Regarding the Communist situation in Kiangsi, Mr. Wang Ching-wei said that before General Chiang Kai-shek's departure for the North, the campaign made considerable headway, but when General Chiang was called up to North China, the Communist forces again became active, but now with General Chiang again in Kiangsi, the situation is in hand.

The Communists have practically been surrounded by Government troops.

Mr. Wang further stated that Canton's expeditionary army will leave for North China very soon in accordance with schedule.—Reuters.

Shanghai, Yesterday.

Mr. Wang Ching-wei-President of the Executive Yuan, suddenly arrived in Shanghai from Nanking this morning.

The Nanking leader's visit is again giving rise to speculation regarding the political situation. It is officially learned that immediately after his arrival, Mr. Wang called on Mr. T. V. Soong at the latter's residence. Mr. Wang, according to the official statement, has come to Shanghai specially to discuss financial affairs with Soong. He will return to Nanking to-night.

Mr. Wang Ching-wei recently resumed his post as President of the Executive Yuan at Nanking after having reached an agreement with General Chiang Kai-shek concerning the various outstanding political issues.—Reuters.

CHINESE GOODS DISPLAYED.

Exhibition Opened At Sincere's.

PROMINENT VISITORS AT FUNCTION.

"I have travelled to many places, and everywhere have seen exhibitions of Japanese goods; the Japanese seize every opportunity of displaying their manufactures and we Chinese must do the same," said General Wong Keung, on the occasion of the opening of the exhibition of Chinese manufactures, at the premises of the Sincere Co. Ltd., last night.

General Wong Keung opened the exhibition in place of General Tsi Ting-kai, who was unable to be present. He is General Tsi Ting-kai's military adviser, and last year, assisted him in the defence of Woosung.

The other official guests, at the banquet which followed the opening of the exhibition were, General Tam Kai-san, and Mr. Woo Man-chin, member of the Canton branch of the Kuomintang.

The three official guests were escorted to Hong Kong by Mr. Ma Man Fai, manager of the Sincere Company, and Mr. Ma Luk Pun, sub-manager of the company, and arrived in Hong Kong last evening by train.

Many prominent local Chinese were present at the banquet, among whom were: Mr. Chan Lim-puk, Tobacco agent of the Nanyang Bros. Tobacco Co., and Mr. Wong Kwong-tin, Chairman of the local Chinese Chamber of Commerce.

The second period of the exhibition commences to-morrow, at noon, when the general public will be admitted. From to-morrow until next Sunday the products of Hong Kong and Canton will be on view, about 43 exhibitors having goods on display.

Owing to the lack of space, the exhibition of Shanghai goods was held last week.

Some of the local manufacturers who are occupying stands are: The Sincere Company, manufacturers of perfumes and toilet articles, the Nanyang Bros. Tobacco Co., the Yuen & Co., the Amoy Canning Corp., the National Lacquer & Paint Products Co. Ltd., and the Man Fai Printing Ink Works.

The Exhibition, which has been interesting Hong Kong for the past week, is an effort to popularize products and it is felt that the beautiful silks etc., which have been admired by so many must be instrumental in bringing the excellent quality and workmanship of all Chinese produce to the notice of all who visit the Exhibition.

The following eight days will be devoted to displaying the goods of Hong Kong and Canton merchants. Forty-three factories have amalgamated in the Exhibition, and their total capital represents a figure of approximately $30,000,000.

Sincere's own products from their Perfumery and Aerated Water Factories will be one of the largest in the Exhibition and other special lines consist of underwear, hosiery, canned goods, glassware, confectionery and electrical flashlights etc.

SILVER PLANS LIKELY TO BE DEFEATED

Should Be Considered Separately.

SENATE NOT NECESSARILY OPPOSED TO INFLATION

Schemes Will Probably Be Held Over

New York, Yesterday.

Efforts to include currency inflation and silver provisions in the Administration's Farm Bill, are destined for defeat, according to Democrats of the United States.

Amendments offered include those of Senator Huey Long, (Louisiana) authorising the purchase of $5100,000,000 worth of silver against which currency will be issued, and Senator Wheeler's plan for remonetising silver with a ratio of 16/1 with gold.

Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, pointed out that the rejection would not mean that the Senate was against inflation, but that inflation should be considered separately.—Reuters.

MR. MacDONALD'S VISIT.

WAR DEBTS, DISARMAMENT AND PRICE LEVELS

London, Yesterday.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, told the House of Commons on Thursday, that when he is in the United States, he will discuss with President Roosevelt, war debts, wholesale price levels and disarmament.

Both Governments were agreed there should be a preliminary and candid examination of the war debt situation, the settlement of which would be one of the greatest blessings to the present generation.

The next instalment of the debt payment became due on June 15, and before then there would have to be a personal and candid examination, for it was not going to be merely a matter of experts.

No provisional agreement, however, subject to the acceptance of the Cabinet, would be entered into as a result of his Washington visit. There would merely be an exchange of views.

Mr. MacDonald added that he would take the opportunity of the visit to speak to President Roosevelt as President of the International Economic Conference.

No great success could result from that Conference unless part of the obstructions raised in the way of international trade, was removed.

He wanted to get co-operation of the most cordial character and if he could do that he thought that his mission would be successful.—British Wireless Service.

Proof Of Christ's Divinity

Easter Is Assurance Of Immortality

HIS HUMANITY NOT DENIED

(By A Local Padre.)

(This is another of the series of articles written exclusively for the "Sunday Herald" by a local Army chaplain.)

IN A. D. 29 on the summit of a Jewish belief. Even the apostles at first derided the "idle tales" of Jerusalem a man died upon a cross. His crime was alleged to be addition and blasphemy.

Nineteen centuries later He dominates the world. "I," He said, "if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me."

That remarkable prophecy has been continuously fulfilled. Drawn unto Him we invariably are, whether to weep or laugh, to oppose Him or obey.

Napoleon once said—"Jesus Christ was more than man—I have inspired multitudes with such enthusiastic devotion that they would have died for me, but to do so it was necessary that I should be visibly present, with the electric influence of my looks, my words, my voice. Christ alone has succeeded in so raising the minds of men towards the unseen that they become insensible of the barriers of time and space. Across a chasm of centuries, the soul of man with all its powers and faculties becomes an annexation to the empire of Christ. This phenomenon is unaccountable." Christ was a young man when He died. Thirty-three is His traditional age. He was born about B.C. 4.

When in 532 A.D. Dionysius Exiguus, a monk of Scythia succeeded in creating a Christian computation of time, he made a mistake of several years. His error confirms the view that Christ was in the early thirties, if we accept the best authorities, who hold that A.D. 29 was the year of crucifixion.

A young man, not a hoary philosopher with a grey beard and tattered cloak. A peasant with blue blood in His veins, and a royal pedigree of which He made no capital.

No Mere Ascetic. One day laying down His carpenter's tools, and sweeping up for the last time the shavings on the workshop floor, He went out to find His destiny.

For three years He went about in simple service for His fellow-men, revealing the love of God. He was no mere ascetic. He had no use for the principle of self-immolation, as expounded by the fakirs. His humanity was terrible. No one denies it. The fight is over His divinity.

During the last 20 years there has been a spate of books about His humanity. Famous writers have tilted a lance at His divinity. In less than a century their books will have gone into the limbo, but the Gospels will still be here. The divine Christ is unescapable.

Some years ago Mr. J. D. Beresford tried his hand at creating a new religion. There is no possible reason," he said "for believing that inspiration culminated in, and was terminated by, the teaching of Christ. Mankind now awaits the new revelation that is surely coming within the next 50 years."

What Mr. Beresford has accomplished is a further fulfillment of one of Christ's prophecies. "There shall arise false Christs, and false prophets and shall show great signs and wonders, inasmuch that if it were possible they shall deceive the very elect."

But where are the critics of yesterday with their "made in Germany" theories?

They are gone, and every one of their theories has been refuted. Story That Lives.

Christ alone remains. Had he died on Good Friday and nothing further had happened, it would have been a different story. In fact there would have been no story at all. His influence would have perished within a decade. It has been because of Easter Day that He has lived and cast His spell over the hearts of men from that day to this, and will continue to do so until the end of recorded time.

Yet the resurrection cut across the

QUARRY POINT THEFTS.

Two Chinese Gaoled.

Kong Mak-yeung, 22, unemployed, and "Kong Ming, 38, gardener, appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones yesterday morning, at the Central Magistracy, where they pleaded guilty to charges of larceny of two strings of beads, two rings and one pair of glasses from No. 1 Quarry Point and also to receiving same.

On Thursday evening the first defendant was seen at a pawn shop in Shaukiwan, trying to pawn two strings of beads and two rings. He was arrested and later confessed to having stolen some property from No. 1 Quarry Point, a finger ring having been given to the second defendant.

Wal Wing, 20, described as a coal cooler, was yesterday morning sentenced to 6 weeks' hard labour by Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Central Magistracy, for larceny of four electric

IMPERIAL COTTON
DISEASES.Experimental Station's Prevention Methods.

EMPIRE GROWERS' REPORT.

The Empire Cotton-growing Corporation has now published reports received from experiment station, 1931-2—including Northern Rhodesia, Nyasaland, Nigeria, and Fiji.

With regard to the incidence of the numerous pests and diseases to which cotton is subject and to the work that has been done towards dealing with them, states the report, it may be noted that the opinion that in general they are symptoms of something not being quite right with the weather (at or before the time of the outbreak) with the soil, with methods employed in cultivation, is steadily gaining ground.

If this proves to be a sound deduction it is clear that the treatment of pests or diseases will in future come to be of a more fundamental aid by the amelioration of whatever is lacking in or wrong with the conditions, as well as by direct treatment of the outbreak when it occurs. But it will be altered more in the direction of prevention than of cure.

Bollworm Pest.

The most important pest, the report continues, was the one generally classed under the term bollworm. Nearly all the stations reported more or less bollworm, but few except Queensland had severe attacks; in Queensland it was an outstanding feature of the season. In Northern Rhodesia it is stated that stainers and American bollworms are limiting factors in the establishment of cotton as a commercial crop in Northwest Rhodesia.

A good deal of study was given to the bollworm in both Rhodesias and in South Africa, and a number of new facts were observed, though as yet there seemed little approach to any method of control. At Barberton (South Africa) the question of inoculating new soya bean lands by means of "soil cultures" is receiving attention.

In view of information on the activity of the species as a parasite of the egg of the American bollworm during the cool season attempts have been made to breed it on a large scale. Up to the present these attempts have been unsuccessful.

COAL PRODUCTION
IN SOVIET.30 Per Cent. Increase In 1933 Anticipated.

Moscow.
 The coal production in the Soviet Union for 1933 is estimated at 84,000,000 tons as compared with about 64,000,000 tons in 1932. It is generally believed that the increase of 30 per cent can be realized.

Especially the coal output in the Eastern parts of the Union will be stimulated, particularly that of the mines in Sakhalin and Trans-Caucasia. For the introduction of new machinery there has been set aside an amount of 707,000,000 rubles. Of this total a sum of 245,000,000 rubles will be used for the reconditioning of old mines and galleries while only a few new mines will be opened.

SPANISH-ARGENTINE
BARTER.£250,000 Deal In Rails
And Maize.

It is officially announced that an exchange of commodities has been arranged between Spain and Argentina for the value of 10,000,000 pesetas, about £250,000 sterling. Spain will send steel rails and receive maize from Argentina.

On February 14 the diplomatic representative of Spain in Mexico signed a contract with the Mexican Government, represented by the Minister of War, for five gunboats of 1,600 tons and 12 constguard vessels of 150 tons, to be constructed in Spain.

These vessels are to be delivered within 18 months. The contract has caused rejoicing at Ferrol, Cartagena, and Bilbao, where it will give employment to many workers.

POLAND'S PETROLEUM PRODUCTION.

Alarming Increase.

Warsaw.
 Statistics just published here on the production of petroleum in Poland during 1932 reveal that the decrease in that branch of industry which ever since 1923 gave cause to anxiety, has progressed still further. The output in 1932 is given at 657,000 tons as compared with 631,000 in 1931, 663,000 in 1930, 675,000 in 1929 and even 743,000 in 1928. Aside from the decline of the world

CANADA'S TOBACCO
EXPORT.4,570,000 Lbs. Increase Since 1927.

IMPROVED CULTIVATION.

Ottawa.
 While much of the tobacco consumed in Canada is imported, Canadian tobacco is also exported in increasing quantities. In 1927 the total exports of Canadian tobacco amounted to 5,867,000 pounds; in 1932 the export figure was approximately 10,437,000 pounds. In 1927 shipments were made to the British Isles, Netherlands and the United States; in 1932 the purchasing countries included the British Isles, Barbadoes, Sierra Leone, Jamaica, Gambia, Belgium and the United States.

A feature of the trade is the change that has taken place in the type of tobacco that is now being exported. In the years 1927 and 1928 the bulk of the tobacco exported was Burley. In 1931 and 1932 the first place was usurped by bright flue-cured tobacco grown in the south-western countries of the province of Ontario. Through the experimental work of the Tobacco Division of the Canadian Government Experimental Farms, there has recently been a distinct improvement both in the cultivation and curing of Canadian tobacco.—Reuter.

market price for petroleum, this alarming decrease of the production is attributed to the steadily receding purchasing power of the home market.

UNDERGROUND MASSACRE DISCOVERY

Thousands Of Skeletons Found In Cave.

TRAGIC EXPEDITION RECALLED.

Johannesburg.
The discovery of a cave near Irene by Mr. J. Breckenkamp while quarrying dolomite has led to the interesting speculation of whether the missing entrance to the Death Cave of Irene has at last been identified.

Many Bantu legends are surrounded with the cave which has been inspected by Professor Raymond A. Dart, who is of the opinion that exceedingly valuable scientific discoveries might be made in this cave. Most interesting of all, however, is the suggestion by Mr. Arnold Black in the Rand Daily Mail that the second entrance to the Death Cave of Irene has been discovered.
Mr. Black writes: "Only one man is living from whom it is possible to gain first-hand particulars concerning the history of the Irene Death Cave. That is a well known Johannesburg mining engineer and planner, Mr. Ernest Sheppard."

In 1894 he undertook some explorations here which rendered the neighbourhood unforgettable to him.
It was in order to discover the origin of these Bantu and native stories of a mysterious cavern that Mr. Sheppard decided to find the entrance and travel as far as he could underground.

On the summit of a ridge that runs parallel with the Johannesburg-Pretoria railway, about a mile from Irene station, he was brought to a kind of natural crater in the dolomite, which the natives declared hid the "Portal of Death." Mr. Sheppard organised a tiny "expedition," which ultimately included two of his friends (important officials at Pretoria), a farmer from the neighbourhood and two natives—six people in all.

Descent Into Crater.

The current report of the black Irenians, which seems to be borne out by the new discoveries, was that the cave had another entrance nearly two miles away, and presumably on the farm of General Smuts, which lies on the opposite side of the valley. But if the legends are to be accepted the Death Cave stretches for a score of miles towards the west—some even say as far as Swaziland!

Mr. Sheppard and his companions, carrying lights, climbed down the crater near Irene (which is still to be identified) and among the roots of the huge wild fig tree they came upon the entrance of an underground passage. The adventurers climbed down and entered a very stuffy passage. When the way seemed blocked by a huge boulder Mr. Sheppard put out his hand and found a human skull crumbling away at his touch.

From here on the path, which widened into halls that led off to immeasurable side passages, was almost literally carpeted with the powdered skeletons of human beings.
Every ledge and alley seemed to contain fragment of human bones.

After about a mile the travellers felt they had seen enough of these nightmarish vaults, which contained a considerable number of bats and owls. They turned back and were

CHILDREN RESCUED IN WASH-TUB.

Moravian's Bravery In Ice-Bound River.

Prague.

A wash-tub has been the means of saving three children from drowning at Kralupp, Moravia.
The children had been playing on the banks of an ice-bound river when the ice floe on which they stood broke off and was carried downstream.

No boats were available so a man, seeing their distress, paddled out in a wash-tub and towed the cast-aways back to land.—Reuter.

SOLDIER'S FUNERAL FOR A NUN.

Milan.

A nun has been given a military funeral.

She was Suroa Matilde Pantano, a Daughter of Charity, who for the past 30 years has been a nurse in the Military Hospital at Parma.
During and after the war she nursed thousands of wounded soldiers.

Hundreds of soldiers of all ranks who had been wounded followed her casket to the cemetery where she was buried with full military honours.—
Reuter.

lucky enough to find the outlet again among the roots of the monster fig tree.

The natives, who were very much frightened, spoke of immeasurably large continuations of the cave.

Death Claims Party.

Within a few weeks five out of the six explorers were dead. Mr. Sheppard was the only survivor, and like the others he had a very grave attack of typhoid fever due to breathing the dust of the mouldering corpses.

An underground massacre of 100 years ago is said to be the secret of the cave. About 1820 or 1830, when Mozilikatse, the founder of the Matabelle nation, marched through the Transvaal from Zululand, he slew all who came in his impi's path. Near Irene were several prosperous kraals of peaceful natives, and the inhabitants took refuge in the nearest cave.

Several thousand climbed down the crater, which geologically resembles the various "wondergats" in the Transvaal. Mozilikatse had brushwood piled at the entrance and the tribe, or a great part of it, was suffocated or died of thirst.

Bones have actually been recovered in more recent times from the entrance, but the fate of the 1894 expedition has kept others away.
When Mr. Sheppard last visited the entrance, the latter, which can only be reached by scrambling almost vertically for nearly 100 feet along the roots of the ancient trees, was in danger of collapsing. The farmer on whose ground the hole lies, has fenced it in with barbed wire.

Curiously enough, the entire formation can hardly be identified at a distance of more than a few yards.
The topmost branches of the tree just rise above the veld and from afar seem nothing but an ordinary veld bush.

There is the likelihood that Mr.
Breckenkamp stumbled on the second entrance to the cave.—
Reuter.

CHINA'S DAZZLING RECOVERY WINS "HERALD" CUP

England kicked off facing a strong sun and the Chinese were early on the offensive. Neat passing between Fung and Ip earned an early corner, but Tam headed just over. Lim then cleared well from Ridley, and Bryant's shot was turned for a corner. Fung sent Yeung away with a great pass, and Tam headed his pass against a defender. The ball going out to Fung, but the latter shot weakly.

The Chinese enjoyed the best of the early exchanges, and it was entirely against the run of the play when England took the lead after 15 minutes. Ridley and Hocquard combined well to draw the defence, but Langmead completely missed the centre, and BRYANT ran in to net easily.

The Chinese, spurred on by this reverse, were on the offensive from the kick off, and a quick shot by Tam was well saved by Combey. Tam went through again, but was robbed by Ip who shot over. Bliss made a great clearance when Fung was almost through.

England then returned to the attack, and started the Chinese goal, Lim having to punch clear to make three good saves within a minute. His chase, however, fell when LANGMEAD scored the second goal with a well placed shot.

From the restart Fung worked his way clear of the defence, and hit the crossbar with a splendid shot. Leung fed his wings with great success with the result that Combey was called upon to make three good saves. The Chinese forwards shooting at every opportunity. Combey, however, was in rare form.

England Three Up.

At the other end Ridley sent in a glorious shot, but Lim hurled himself at the ball to effect a brilliant save. Play returned to England's goal and Combey dived to save when a pass by Tam had given Fung an open goal.

After 40 minutes England went further ahead, when Langmead was fortunate to retain the ball and give a good pass to BRYANT, who placed England three up.

The Chinese then placed all they knew into the game, and within a minute had greatly reduced the lead.

A quick passing movement left MAK SO unmarked, and he coolly flicked the ball past Combey. Ip shortly after beat Pardoe and passed to FUNG KING-CHEONG, who scored with a splendid shot just inside the penalty area.

Half Time China 2 England 1. England pressed heavily at the commencement of the second half, and Shirras was just a little too high with a long shot. The ball hovered round the Chinese goalmouth, but nothing accrued from the heavy bombardment, owing to the ball being kept in the air too much. Hocquard, however, gave Langmead a good chance, but Lim saved his shot well.

Leung then sent Yeung shuttling away with a great pass, and the latter returned a neat centre for TAM KONG PAK to level the scores with a splendid header.

Spurred on by their success the Chinese forced three corners within a minute, but all proved fruitless.

Langmead and Ridley both missed a good chance to score when Hocquard sent the ball across, and Bryant went close when he headed just wide.

The Chinese positional play at this period was splendid, and they had matters much their own way. The English side could make no headway with their disjointed efforts. The defence was becoming rattled, and, from a centre by Ip, Shirras gave away a penalty by handling unnecessarily. Fung took the kick, but Combey brought off a magnificent save.

A minute later Bliss handled just outside the box, and Fung's shot was well saved by Combey, but the ball went out to Ip Pak-wa, who netted easily. Five minutes later the Chinese went further ahead when Ip broke away to pass to FUNG KING CHEONG, who scored with a fast ground shot.

China Makes Certain.

The Chinese preferred to take no chances, and Tam dropped back into the defence to serve as a third back. Even then China's four forwards more than held their own, and Combey was forced to go full length to save from Mak So. Hocquard gave Gough a chance, but it was not taken, and then Ip dallied with the ball in front of goal to shoot wide when two yards out.

At the conclusion of the match Major C. M. Manners, O.B.E., Chairman of the Football Association, in a brief speech gave a short history of the Sunday Herald Cup, alluding to the past winners and the amount which this competition has collected for charity. Major Manners then introduced Mrs. D. C. Wilson, wife of Mr. David C. Wilson, Manager of the "Sunday Herald."

Mrs. Wilson then presented the cup to Lau Mau, the Chinese captain, and replicas of the cup to each member of the winning team, and was the recipient of a silver vase of congratulations from Lau Mau. China:—Lin Tin-cheng; Li Ting-sang; Lau Mau; Li Kwok-shui; Leung Wing-shui; Tong Kwang; Yeung Shui-yick; Mak So; Fung King-cheong; Tam Kong-pak and Ip Pak-wa.

England:—Combey; Allen; S. Strang; Pardoe; Shirras; Bliss; Gough; Bryant; Langmead; Ridley and Hocquard.

FIRST DIVISION

Saints Secure Well Earned Points.

GOSANO PLAYS HAVOC WITH RECREIO DEFENCE.

At King's Park, St. Joseph's, who displayed an all-round superiority throughout the game, defeated the Recreio by two clear goals.

Both teams commenced at a very fast pace, despite the oppressive heat, and the open game was played in preference to the usual short passing movements.

St. Joseph's were very soon on the offensive, and W. Lawrence was called on to save a hot shot from Omar.

Costa and B. Gosano played perfect football, and repeatedly set the forwards moving. Receiving a nice pass from Gosano, Fernandes sent in a fast shot which Lawrence did well to save. Gosano did practically as he liked, and was allowed to roam all over the field with the ball. It would have been better had the Recreio shadowed their former colleague a little better.

Leonard had a good chance to open the scoring when close in to goal, but selfishness robbed him of the opportunity. He would not part with the ball, but kept beating man after man, and when he eventually did attempt to shoot, was shouldered off the ball.

Gomes was the best of the Recreio forwards, being always a source of danger. He was the only Recreio forward who had any idea of where the opposing goal was situated, and did not hesitate to shoot when within range. He came very near to scoring when, passing the ball to Castilho and immediately receiving it back, he drove hard at goal, the ball going just wide.

St. Joseph's enjoyed the majority of the play, and continually attacked. The backs kicked a good length, and found their forwards, while the halves tackled well.

The Recreio might have scored had their forwards been faster on the ball. On one occasion, three of them had the goal practically at their mercy, but were too slow to take advantage of the opening, and Marques came out to clear in fine style.

Gosano sent Fernandes away on the left, and as the ball came over, Gosano tried a first time shot, and had it not been an oblique shot it would have found the net.

At the other end Gomes had a great opportunity, and had plenty of time to place his shot, but he shot wildly.

Play was immediately transferred back to Recreio territory, where Gosano sent in a nice shot, only to see it deflected just past the post by Gutierrez.

From the resultant place kick, the ball was sent to Costa, who met the ball on the volley, beating Lawrence with a great shot.

Gomes was still endeavouring to find the net, and came near to doing so after a fine run down the field. Beating three men, he sent in a hot shot, which was well saved by Marques.

At the commencement of the second half Gomes attempted another shot at goal, but his shot was again saved by Marques. A Gosano then obtained possession, and sent Leonard away with a perfect forward pass. Leonard shot well and true, Lawrence saving at the expense of a corner.

Again Leonard received a perfect pass from Gosano, and sent in a shot which Lawrence did extremely well to hold.

On the run of the play, St. Joseph's deserved more goals, their forwards being much superior to those of the Recreio.

Play was for some time confined to the Recreio goal area. Costa sending a fast shot which was only partially cleared, the ball going to Gosano, who finished in a jured drive which hit the cross bar and rebounded to Fernandes (1), who made no mistake, beating Lawrence with a hard low drive.

With a two goal lead, St. Joseph's were content to rest on their laurels, and thereafter took things very easily.

St. Joseph's:—Marques; Souza; Thark; Lawrence; Costa; Luner; Delgado; Omar; Leonard; B. Gosano and Fernandes.

Recreio:—Lawrence; Gutierrez; Marques; Mackintosh; Figueiredo; Laurel; Castilho; Gomes; Delgado; Goncalves and Santos.

SECOND DIVISION.

Higgins Scores Three Out Of Six.

THE Lincolns proved easy victors in their match with South China at Chatham Road, netting six times as against South China's once.

The Lincolns had the better of the game throughout, and had they made the most of their opportunities they would probably have reached two figures. South China failed to take advantage of numerous chances of reducing the lead, their forwards continually dilly dallying in their opponent's goalmouth.

The Lincolns took the lead in the first minute of the game. Cousins taking advantage of a scramble in front of the Chinese goal to net the ball. This was followed shortly after by a determined but unavailing attack on the Lincolns goal.

End to end play ensued, and both goalkeepers brought off spectacular saves before Higgins culminated a brilliant solo effort with a fast rising shot that struck the cross-bar and rebounded into the net. The Lincolns had now gained the upper hand, and Higgins shortly after netted their third point.

After the interval the Lincolns continued to launch attack after attack on the South China goal, and McGuinness placed them further ahead when he sent in a low drive from well out.

Brennan added the fifth with a cross-shot which Tang Sik-hung misjudged and Higgins again scored with a well placed shot. South China notched their only goal of the game when Ng Po-kui beat Deacon with a curling shot, the goalkeeper being unable to hold it.

Lincolns:—Deacon; Roden, Colclough; Maughan, Worrall, Wilby; Barnes, Cousins, Higgins, McGuinness and Brennan.

South China:—Tang Sik-hung; Chung Tai-lan, Tse Tak; Cheung Ping-leun, Yau Wah-ying, George Yeung; To Wai-hing, Lai Shui-wing, Kam Chung-lau, Ng Po-kui and Chau Wing-kau.

THIRD DIVISION.

LINCOLNS RUNNERS UP FOR TITLE.

The Lincolns third string assured themselves of the position of runners up yesterday by defeating the R.A.S.C. by three clear goals.

Evans opened the scoring with a nice drive, Abbott, although getting to the ball, sending it further into the net in attempting to kick clear.

The heat was not conducive to good football, yet both teams played a fast and vigorous game, with the wind doing its utmost to spoil well placed passes.

THE COMPLETE GOOD SAMARITAN.

Insures Those Who Want A Lift.

Cape Town.
Having discovered that good turns do not always come at the Good Samaritan, a trader in the Transkei has devised a means by which he can continue his generosity without experiencing any of the losses he suffered before.

While motoring in distant and unfrequented parts of the Transkei he often came upon weary and dishevelled travellers footslogging it to the next port of call. He invariably had compassion upon them and gave them lifts. Twice he had bad luck. He met with accidents while giving lifts and the passengers claimed on him for damages. The Transkei trader has not allowed his generosity to be curbed. He still offers lifts to way-farers but he carries in one of the pockets of his car a stock of forms drawn up by an attorney. These indemnify him against third party risks and everybody who wants a lift has to sign one before he or she will be given a ride.
He has had no more accidents.

SWEDISH EXHIBITS FOR CHICAGO

Culinary Display Big Feature.

PRIVATE GUARANTORS

Stockholm.
After many difficulties caused by the crisis, Sweden's participation in the Chicago "Century of Progress" Exposition has at last been secured, although on a considerably smaller scale than what was originally planned.

The Government until recently refused to grant any money for the purpose, but private interests have prevailed upon it to contribute the necessary funds for a modest Swedish pavilion for which one of the best sites in the Exposition grounds has been obtained. Owing to the fact that private contributors have stepped in to safeguard the planting of the Swedish colours at the World Exposition, the Government finally granted a moderate sum for the purpose and authorized its official seal to be placed on Sweden's participation.

An attractive exposition building, in which the glistening rust-proof Swedish steel will play an important part, has been designed by a Gothenburg architect and approved of by the Exposition Committee. Amongst the principal exhibits will be the products of Swedish industrial art, Sweden's attractions as a tourist country, great Swedish inventions, etc.

In another section of the Chicago fair, probably the Agricultural building, the Swedish Smoorgasbord, the famous hors d'oeuvres known to all visitors to Sweden and one of the most popular and firmly established of Sweden's culinary traditions, will be exhibited and served. Here a large and alluring display of all the original Swedish delicacies, many of them ancient native dishes, will be daintily served by girls dressed in picturesque national costumes.
One of the important components of this culinary exhibit will be the many varieties of "Knaeckebroed," the Swedish hard bread, originally a staple food of the humble country farm-

LOCAL CONTROL OF TELEGRAPHY.

New Ordinance Drawn Up.

A Draft Bill entitled the Teleprinting Services Ordinance, 1933, will be considered at the next sitting of the Legislative Council. This ordinance will control all teleprinting, te-letyping, and telephotography services within the Colony.

These are modern developments of telegraphy of which use is being made, or contemplated, by different organisations in the Colony, and it seems desirable to place such user under proper control, to regulate competition in what is now an open field and to prevent induction or other interference with Government or other services, states the Government Gazette.

BI-LINGUAL POSTAL ORDERS.

Replacing British Orders In South Africa.

WITHDRAWAL THIS MONTH.

Cape Town.
The British Postal Order, which is now the only one obtainable at Union Post Offices, will disappear from South Africa within the next two months, it is learned from an authoritative source. It will be replaced by a South African one printed in both languages.
The Postal Orders now sold in the Union are issued by the British Post Office. The arrangement has considerable advantages for the department here, which has drawn a very useful commission on the sales and has had no expenses whatever, either for printing or accounting. For some years, however, there has been pressure from cultural societies and others who objected to the unilingual orders which were not under South African control, and the change-over was projected some time ago. It would have been carried out but for the complications which arose over the currency position and the fact that it was proposed to change the Union's coinage.

The Coinage Bill has now been dropped and the Currency and Exchanges Bill passed, and instructions have been issued for the immediate preparation of the new Postal Orders. It is expected that British Postal Orders will be withdrawn in April.

Except that the South African orders will not be quite so widely accepted as the British ones were,
the public will not be affected by the change. In foreign countries it was usually possible to cash a British order.
Union orders will probably not be accepted outside South Africa and Britain, unless special arrangements are made. This is not regarded as important, however, as money is seldom transmitted to a foreign country by Postal Order.

MOTORING SECTION

HONG KONG, APRIL 16, 1933.

MONSTER BUS FOR LONDON.

Capable Of Seating 74 Passengers.

Capable of seating 74 passengers, a new trolley-bus designed to replace the large-capacity tram has now been completed, says "Motor Transport."

Many operators were present at a demonstration held recently, and although it is not yet in general production, this bus, subject to the approval of the Ministry of Transport, is to appear on the London street shortly. It will be operated in experimental service by the London United Tramways for six months.

IS SINCERITY ENOUGH?

A young man in our city recently went to a near-by lake to swim. He dived into what he sincerely believed to be deep water. But only a few inches beneath the surface were submerged piles. He struck these with his head, and was taken from the water paralyzed. The doctors wonder if he will ever walk again.

Charcoal Fuel For Motors

Adapted For Colonial Needs

HEAVY VEHICLES TEST

PETROLEUM presents one of the more difficult economic and political problems of the world, involving questions of ownership, production and distribution, all singularly aggravated by the steadily increasing demands for petrol in motoring, aviation and some aspects of navigation, writes Y.N.Y. in the "Crown Colonist."

Certainly, in many of the outposts of the Colonial Empire, the cost of transport of petrol added to its soaring selling price at the seat of production, is a serious drag on the progress of automobilism in all its phases, but particularly in heavy road transport and agricultural operations.

Many attempts have been made either to cheapen the use of petrol or to find a substitute for it. Its enrichment with benzol has proved an immense boon, though here again the difficulties and expense of distribution often prove prohibitive. Running heavy vehicles on crude petroleum hardly lessens the troubles in these respects, while adding others. Efforts to run on town coal gas and on gas generated from coke have given some encouraging results, but the latest development is still more promising; in fact, it has proved its value.

New Producer Gas Plant.

A new portable producer gas plant has been devised for attachment to motor vehicles, and is designed to generate gas from charcoal. A demonstration of the apparatus was recently made in London, giving entirely satisfactory results, the lorry running freely and under perfect control. The system involves two main units and some minor accessories, but all extremely simple in construction, working automatically and applicable to any type of motor vehicle, practically without alteration.

There is first a cylindrical steel plate appliance which is fitted on the side opposite to the engine induction. The upper part consists of a hopper, a fuel container, placed above the generating chamber with refractory lining and heat-resisting non-corroding steel grate. Attached to the hopper is a small water tank and drip control feed, which supplies a continuous trickle to a vaporizer fitted to the generator, thus enriching the charcoal gas. Above the vaporizer is a fan by means of which the plant is rapidly started up.

When once generated, the gas passes through pipes to a cleanser and filter, a welded box containing baffles, fixed on the opposite side of the vehicle. The cleansed gas passes through an induction pipe, fitted with an air inlet and gas throttle, to the engine induction manifold. Air inlet valve and gas throttle are under the immediate control of the driver. With this plant, patent high compression cylinder heads are used. These cylinder heads and the fitting brackets vary, of course, according to the make of the vehicle.

It should be emphasized that the whole apparatus is automatic, free from complicated parts and easy to run, requiring very little practice on the part of the driver. It is fairly quick in action from the start, but when de-

BRITONS TOUR IN ANCIENT CAR.

20-Year-Old Vehicle That Cost 8/6.

London.

Two Englishmen have recently started on a Mediterranean tour in a motor-car which is 20 years old and cost 8s. 6d.

They left England for France and propose to travel through Italy to Palermo, Sicily, across the Mediterranean to Tunis, to Morocco, Tangiers, Gibraltar, and Spain. The car was recently found on a scrap heap in a village near Dover, and it was repaired. The motorists stated they wish to prove the reliability of British motor cars above all others.—Reuter.

sired can be started on petrol and then run on gas.

Running Costs.

Common charcoal is used and the running cost is equivalent to petrol at 3d. per gallon; that is to say, before the latest rise in the price of petrol, the saving by running on charcoal gas was between 75 and 85 per cent. The entire plant costs from £70 to £110, according to size and can be adjusted for between £2 and £3. An omnibus contractor in India, who is experimenting with the system, estimates that his saving on 100 buses will exceed £18,400 a year, as compared with running on petrol. He is operating up-country, where the price of petrol is comparatively high owing to transport costs.

Any kind of charcoal can be used, though it is best when made from hard wood, and should be reasonably clean. When a special portable charcoal retort is used, such as can be supplied with the gas-generating plant, there is greater control in the production of a first-class material economically. With such a retort, wood mill waste, branches, twigs and probably bagasse from sugar mills, can be converted into suitable charcoal. It will thus be understood that cheap motor fuel is always available, and, indeed, with the retort in use the frequent difficulty of disposal of waste may be overcome.

At present, the Producer Gas Plant Company is building apparatus for road lorries, agricultural tractors and locomotives on light railways, but the inventor, Mr. Norman C. Jones, is at work upon its application to motor-cars, as well as to barges and river craft. He has had considerable experience with low-temperature coke in running heavy road vehicles, which has stood him in good stead in his present labours. Mr. J. Russell, Assoc.M.Inst. C.E., M.I.M.E., the technical adviser, is intimately acquainted with conditions in India and many of the Colonies, and therefore the peculiar requirements of a specialised market are being closely studied.

NASH BIG "SIX" DEBUT

Best Value Produced By Factory.

Kenosha, Wis.

The new Nash Big Six recently announced is considered the finest low priced car Nash has ever built. It is built to the same high quality standards as the highest priced Nash models.

Its new and larger motor develops 75 horsepower. Its 116-inch wheelbase, and extra large body, its wealth of big car features—all make it worthy of the name Big Six.

This powerful new car was designed to provide motorists with the most outstanding low priced Six on the market to-day, from the standpoint of appearance, size, engineering and price.

Metal Spring Covers
With such refinements as the completely new and larger motor; new double-action thermostatically hydraulic shock absorbers; metal spring covers; new and stronger X-dual frame; new cast iron and steel brake drums; new instrument panel; new light depressed beam control on the floorboard, and non-shatterable windshields, the series promises to dominate its field.

The 1933 Nash Big Six constitutes the biggest dollar's worth ever offered by the company, yet the Nash factory has priced it so low that the 1933 four-door five-passenger Sedan actually sells for $130 less than the comparable car in the 1932 Big Six line!

Nash engineers have redesigned the motor, made it larger, heavier in every way; increased the bore and stroke to 3 1/4 x 4 1/2, with 217.76 cu. in. of piston displacement. It contains larger valves, larger bearings, deeper head and double-ribbed block for extra strength. The motor is so quiet, so powerful that by actual test drivers have found it difficult to differentiate it from the famous Nash Straight Eight engine.

In addition, the X-dual frame has been made stronger by extending the rear-X-subframe flanges through the middle of the rear kick-up.

Important Feature
Another important feature is the new type double-action, hydraulic shock absorbers which absorb the body shock both up and down, thermostatically regulated for both summer and winter driving. Through the vane principle, they vary the spring resistance to the speed of the car and the roughness of the road. They are entirely automatic in action and provide the best possible ride control in all temperatures without effort on the part of the driver.

Comfort and safety refinements include shatter-proof windshield glass as standard equipment in all models; location of head light dimmer control on the floorboard; new windshield operating mechanism; convenient grouping of controls on steering column and new instrument panel.

Four body styles are available in the new Nash Big Six Series, 5-Passenger 4-Door Town Sedan, 5-Passenger 4-Door Sedan, 2-Passenger Coupe, and the 4-Passenger Coupe with rumble seat.

TOWARDS THE AUTOMATIC CAR

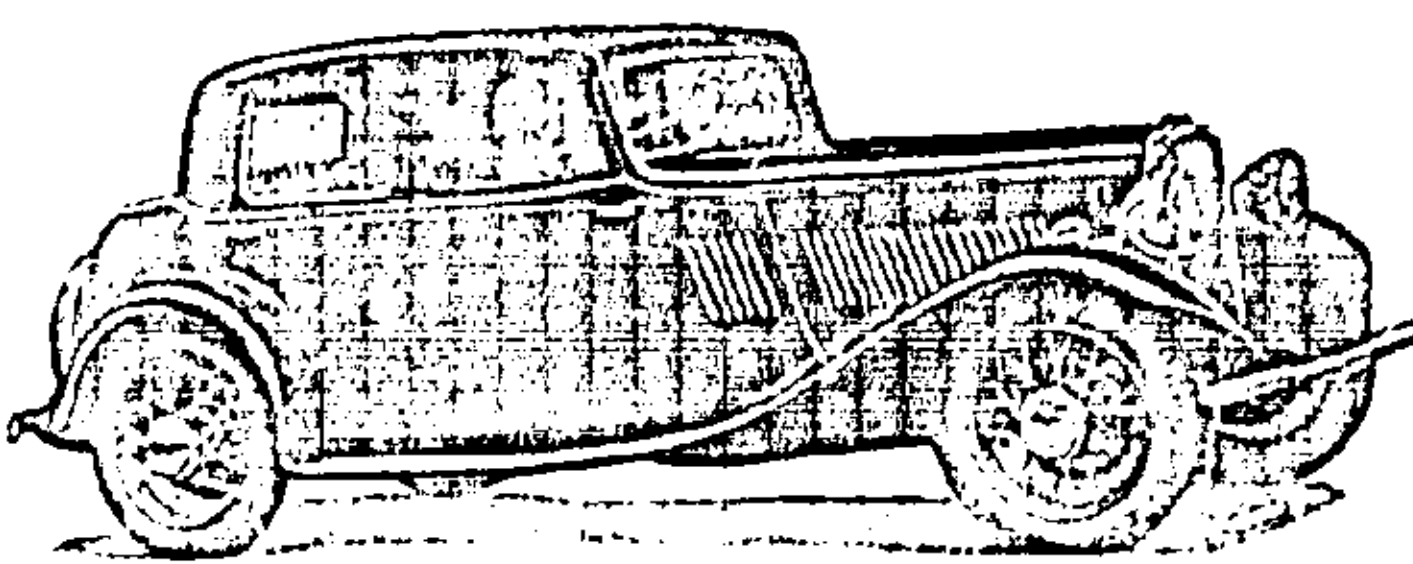

One more step towards fully automatic control has been realised by a thermostat bolted to the exhaust pipe and arranged to close the carburettor strainer when the engine is cold, and to open it automatically when the engine reaches a normal working temperature.—"The Autocar."

WHERE SHOULD THE ENGINE BE?

Controversy concerning the correct position for an engine is revived by the fact that a car shown at the New York exhibition has its engine at the rear but within the wheelbase. The machine, as a matter of fact, is most unusual in that the body forms the frame.—"The Autocar."

PACKARD

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

"STYLE," as applied to the Packard, has always meant something more.

Associated with it, logically and distinctively, is the other important word, "enduring"—a Packard characteristic for a third of a century.

So gradually and correctly has Packard style evolved—like the slow unfolding of a beautiful flower—it has never been at the mercy of that capricious mood which too often alienates to-morrow's style from that of to-day.

"THE MUMMY" THE MAKING OF A MUMMY

Karloff Surpasses All Previous Characterizations for Weirdness

Karloff surpasses all previous characterizations for weirdness. Karloff, noted creator of sinister roles, and to-day acknowledged as filmdom's supreme make-up artist, has achieved a new and startling masterpiece of the make-up art with the mummy countenance which he uses in his latest picture "THE MUMMY" which is now showing at the Central Theatre to crowded houses.

Surpassing even the hideous "FRANKENSTEIN" in cleverness, the "mummy" make-up took Karloff eight tedious hours to do. The transformation of the actor to Lu-ho-tep, 3700 year old mummy, was accomplished in the following manner:

The face, of course, was the first consideration. It was dampened with water, and then strips of cotton—even the eyelids were not spared in this nerve-racking process. Collodion was then applied, and the mask touched up with spirit gum to hold it in place. Work was stopped at intervals in order that a drying machine might be applied to get the facial wrinkles. The next step was the pinning back of the ears. Make-up clay was used to give Karloff's head the serrated appearance of a mummy. Twenty-two different varieties of make-up paint were then applied to the actor's withered countenance. Swathed from head to foot in bandages which had first been acid rooted and passed through a warm oven, Karloff was ready to step on the set and submit to another eight hours of gruelling work before the cameras.

His supporting cast in this fantastic story of the reincarnation of an Egyptian mummy includes Zita Johann, David Manners, Arthur Byron, Edward Van Sloan and Bramwell Fletcher. Karl Freund directing. It is interesting to note that Karloff occupies the same dressing room on the Universal lot formerly used by another make-up master, the late Lon Chaney.

CONCUBINE DIES OF INJURIES.

Struck By Chinese Merchant.

A Chinese concubine, 28 years old, named Ko Siu Chan, died at the Government Civil Hospital, at 9.45 p.m., yesterday, as the result of injuries received when Fung Tse-yuen, a merchant, allegedly struck her with a marble clock early yesterday morning and fractured her skull.

The merchant, Fung Tse-yuen, attacked the concubine and injured an elder woman who interfered. He is then said to have attempted to commit suicide by throwing himself over the verandah of his house at 218, Des Voeux Road, 1st floor.

All three were taken to hospital by the Police. The man is believed to have run amok, as several banknotes amounting to $500, found on his person were found to have been torn in pieces.

"MASS PRODUCING" EASTER EGGS.

A Big Demand For Annual Holiday.

The sweet factories are busy making their preparations for Easter.

There is one machine in London which is now turning out 1,500 chocolate Easter eggs every hour. In three weeks it has made more than 150,000 eggs — and not one of them has been touched by hand.

They say this machine can "mass produce" eggs of any size, from one as small as a strawberry to an egg measuring five inches by 3. — Reuter.
